Mediteq Forum Meeting

Shaping the Future of QA/RA with AI

How can AI tools transform work within quality and regulatory processes?

Welcome to an afternoon filled with inspiration, concrete examples, and a look into the future!

During the event, Maria Nyåker, Entrepreneur and Strategic Advisor on AI Regulation, and Michael King, Senior Director, Product & Strategy, MedTech at IQVIA, will share their experiences and reflections on the opportunities and challenges of using AI in QA/RA.

Maria Nyåker founded AKRN Scientific Consulting, a MedTech CRO acquired by NAMSA in 2022. She now runs Nyakern Nexus Investments, supporting emerging MedTech and AI healthcare ventures.

Maria advises and lectures on MedTech and AI regulation, serving as a Swedish expert in ISO committees 14155 and 18969, and contributing to the Scientific Advisory Group on AI in Healthcare. She mentors startups and supports regulatory and clinical strategies for product testing and market entry in Europe.

Mike King has worked for about 20 years leading both local and global teams in regulatory affairs and quality assurance. His focus is on optimizing business processes through intelligence-driven simplification and automation within and across quality, regulatory, and safety functions. Passionate about improving patient outcomes, and an expert on AI use cases within the quality and regulatory space, Mike applies his vast knowledge and skill base to help develop innovative solutions to drive the quality agenda in healthcare.
